

Youth Portal Blog

This blog deals with the subject of language:

- Language Rights
- Language Learning
- Language in Arts and Culture (music, movies, writing etc)

For example, you might want to write about:

- How it was growing up not knowing your own language
- Growing up in a different culture where the language used is not your own
- What you like best about your language
- How important is it to know your language

Purpose: To share ideas, experiences, hopes and dreams

Audience: Any young person living in Nunavut. Any young person living around the world who wishes to reply or share there own stories if it fits with the idea for this blog.
